Investment Commentary

Despite some positive signs of an economic recovery, bond yields throughout North America drifted lower in the second quarter of 2014. This resulted in strong returns, with the FTSE TMX Canada Universe Bond Index posting a return of 2.0% for the quarter. Canadian long term bonds outperformed other durations, while high yield bonds maintained the strongest one-year performance. The S&P/TSX Composite Index continued to be one of the stronger equity markets with a 6.4% return. The energy and industrial sectors were the top performers, with the health care sector falling from the highest performing sector in the first quarter to the poorest performing in the second quarter. Global equity markets continued to climb over the quarter. Unlike previous quarters, however, much of this was driven by Emerging Markets. The MSCI All Country World Index posted a 1.6% return, with all sectors producing positive returns. The S&P 500 Index also showed a return of 1.6% for the quarter. The ICREIM/IPD Canadian Property Index was only slightly positive for the quarter, however the one year return remains strong at 7.7%. For the quarter, the Newfoundland and Labrador Pooled Pension Fund had a positive return of 3.1%, but underperformed its benchmark by 20 basis points. For the twelve months ended June 30, 2014, the Fund generated a 23.7% return, exceeding its benchmark by 2.6% due to continued strong performance in the Canadian and global equity markets. After an extremely weak first quarter, the Canadian dollar rebounded in the second quarter, posting a 2.3% gain against the U.S. dollar. The weaker U.S. dollar led to strong performance in all of the major markets.
